Message From The Commodore Bob Taylor

Hi, CIYC Members,

I am using this opportunity to remind established members and inform new members about what our ABC permit allows us to do and not do. Simply put, the permit that we have basically allows us to sell drinks to members and guests and to consume the drinks on the premises. Therefore, the bartenders are not allowed to sell drinks to anyone who is not wearing a member's name badge or guest name badge. Thanks to our bartender John, he refused to serve three ABC officials on a surprise visit because they were not wearing name badges. When they asked for beers, John refused to serve them and asked them to leave. Then they showed him their ABC badges. Good job, John!!

Also, with the ABC permit that we have, we cannot take drinks from our bar to our home, boat, or anywhere outside the building and patio. This gives us a challenge regarding Bocce Ball on Thursday evenings. Taking drinks from our bar to the grass area leaves us vulnerable and in non-compliance with our ABC Permit and is not allowed.

When the ABC officials gave us a surprise visit at the end of February, we were in compliance except for one area. Under our liquor permit we must buy our liquor through our distributors. We cannot buy beer, wine, or liquor from a retail store like Smart & Final and resell it at the bar. When the ABC officials looked through some of our receipts, they found a few receipts from Smart & Final for beer. The consequence of this mistake is not known yet. According to one of the ABC officials, we could get a warning not to do this again, or we could get a year's probation. If we are caught in a non-compliance procedure again, there is a chance they could shut us down for 10 days. This is our reality. I thank everyone in advance for being mindful of these regulations in order to keep us in compliance with ABC, and to keep our club open and vibrant as usual.

I am writing this article a little over a week before Opening Day. I am so looking forward to our Opening Day! Special thanks to Eleanor Hovaten and the Islanders for what I'm sure will be an outstanding day with beautiful and impressive decorations and delicious food.

Message From The Vice-Commodore Diane Miner Sherlock

March was filled with sensational events beginning with our “Those Were the Days” Variety Show. CIYC members have so much talent, exhibited by all the performers, stage personnel, audio people, lighting people, and the BEST band in Ventura County. Thank you, thank you to Barbara Brauns, Jack Borkowski, and Larry Stein. These people research and work on this show for a year. Being a member of the cast is the best time I have had at CIYC. And believe me, I don’t have any special talent. The camaraderie and friendships are worth all the time and rehearsals.

In preparation for Opening Day we had a very exceptional Ship Shape: organizing, polishing, and cleaning the patio in preparation for painting.

Les Hardwick, Bob Deyling, Randy Cabral, and Mike Greenup spearheaded the painting. It looked fabulous, only to be dug up, due to the ongoing drain and plumbing issues which are under the patio slab. To date, the repair work has begun! Could be the first time the club has had good drainage in 30 years! Stay tuned for updates as they occur.

Ongoing equipment failures have finally been successfully completed. YES! The beer cooler has a new condenser, new evaporator, and new thermometers inside the cooler itself, while the bar icemaker is up and running as well. During these mechanical breakdowns, the elevator decided to quit. It just so happened our maintenance visit was due, and the elevator is now up and running in good form. It was extensively used during the Variety Show.

Our TV room has had some new upgrades which include two lantern-style corner lamps, a new console to house our TV equipment, a new DVD player, and a new Sound Bar. Thanks to House Captain Les Hardwick, Richard Sherlock, and Gary McFarland for installation of all this equipment. A big thank you to Jackie Biederman for having her handyman install the lanterns. Feel free to watch your favorite movies in our nicely upgraded, cozy fireplace room.

And the kitchen continues to be a happening place! Thank you to our March cooks: Rita deCaussin (she cooked on her birthday), Karen Farrell, Michelle Dildine, and their crews. The Wednesday night dinners have become “Wednesday Fun Nights.” The Epicurean St. Patrick’s Day Dinner and Social is always a huge success, under Vera’s guidance. The Beefeater dinners continue to be very good and a fun way to spend a Saturday evening.

Opening Day is sure to be a huge success. It’s our time to celebrate, so don your nautical attire and join the fun! Thanking our Islanders in advance for presenting another stellar event.

Come join the fun!
Diane Sherlock, Vice Commodore

PS When making reservations in the bar book, PLEASE be sure to put your first and last name, and the first and last names of your guests. Frank then transfers this to the master reservation list. Without these full names, it’s difficult to identify them when they come to check in.

WHALE WATCHING CRUISE

I can't say enough about the fantastic day we had on the water on March 4th, and in the bar afterwards. We had three brave Captains on The Big Fish, Valkyrie, and Hakuna Matata, who set out in search of these elusive whales. In past years I was always successful cruising back and forth in the Anacapa/Santa Cruz gap. The water was flat and if there was a whale, it would have been spotted, as we had 12 sets of eyes scanning the horizon. We spent 2 hours in the calm water there and on the back side with nothing in sight. The hits of the day were the champagne and homemade food we all shared, as well as the many wonderful stories of CIYC lore. Thanks to Ruth and Paul Hatcher for the fabulous Taco Bar and homemade chocolate chip cookies!

On the way back to the harbor, I spotted the Ranger 85, a whale excursion boat. I did a 90-degree turn well ahead of the boat, imagining I would put us in a good spot for the whales they were tracking. All eyes were aft, watching the Ranger 85. I'm the only one looking forward as I am piloting my vessel, and there it was - about 200' in front of Hakuna Matata. "Thar she blows!" - one single spout and then down. Try to tell 11 other people you were the only one to see what you were looking for all day, but it is true. CIYC Whale Watch was a complete success with just this one sighting.

Sunday afternoon in the bar we were regaled with 2 fantastic poems, one amazing song, and the most amazing animated, Hollywood version of the day's event: Randy Cabral, still dressed in his blood-soaked (Hollywood style) clothes, shared the winning story. All the judges awarded him 10+++ . This tale is available in video format and can be shared.

WET WEDNESDAYS

Wet Wednesdays have always started in the first few weeks of March. However, this year the racing schedule will be later and start May 2nd. The Wednesdays missed in March & April will be replaced by Fabulous Fridays. March still has 2 ASBCYC races, and April will have 4 races, as posted. Toni and I live close to the mouth of the harbor, so every Wednesday between 5:00 & 5:30 pm, I watch the racers heading out for a wonderful evening of fun. If you have never seen this parade pass by, I urge you to head down to the harbor mouth, bring a snack & a glass or two of wine, and watch all the sailors, especially the ones with the yellow & black burgees, pass by. What a relaxing end of the day.

In December of 2017, I was tasked with setting a Cruising Schedule for 2018 at the calendar meeting. Forecasting the weather months in advance is a real gamble. Two of those dates have been completely blown out. To that end, watch for notification of Cruises with short lead time. We are a YACHT CLUB and we will be out on the water in 2018.

SCYA's SEARCHLIGHT

Yesterday evening I opened my email to find SCYA's monthly Searchlight. This publication is comparable to our Currents. As I was reading through, the last page was of our very own Mid-Winter Regatta with a featured photo of Wai'Lani, taken by our own Sharon Uhlig. Race photos from both days are available on their website and ours. Great job, Sharon!

Hello, Islanders and all CIYC members!

March was certainly a busy month, especially with the fabulous Variety Show and successful Opening Day!

Our sincere thank you goes out to all CIYC members who made contributions to Opening Day funding. Your assistance helped the Channel Islanders create the wonderful decorations and scrumptious food for our guests on Opening Day. Thank you to Joyce Sheridan and her team of cooks who worked for days preparing the appetizers that once again put Channel Islands Yacht Club at the top of the memory list of all the harbor celebrations. Also, my thanks to all decoration volunteers who helped Sherie Ireland and me pull together our “Up, Up, and Away!” theme. You helped with many hours of ‘sticky fingers’ and creative thoughts to bring to life the vision of lifting off with our ‘beautiful balloons.’

April brings the celebration of Channel Islanders’ 54th Anniversary with dinner on Saturday, April 21st. Cocktails will be at 6:30 and dinner at 7. We will have a special menu from Chef Karen Farrell. Commodore Bob Taylor will be our guest speaker. We look forward to hearing “all about Bob.” Please bring cash or check for $15 made out to Channel Islanders.

Looking forward, the next major Islanders’ event will be the CIYC Fathers’ Day Dinner on June 16th. Come help us celebrate! Then June 21st will be the Summer Regular Meeting for Islanders.

Watch for notices in your email for excursions in the months of April, May, and June. Send your suggestions to Laurie Preston, Second Mate.

On another note, we are still hoping to fill the position of Corresponding Yeoman for the Islanders’ Board. Please contact me if you would like to join the Board and help with the creation of flyers, letters, and other communications.

Once again, thanks to our many volunteers who make things happen!

Anglers' Corner - April 2018

By Frank Sullivan

White Sea Bass Pen Report:

This cohort of fish seem to be the best we've had. We have 15,000 fish that we took delivery of in December 2017 with an average weight of a little over 18 grams. This month the average weight was 51.6 grams! We've had very few morts, and the fish are very active. We should be getting authorization to release fairly soon.

Fishing Report:

Rockfish season is well upon us with good reports from the Commercial Passenger Fishing Vessel (CPFV). There have been a lot of Ocean White Fish caught; they are called a poor man's Yellowtail because they fight really hard. Very few reports of any pelagic fish like Yellowtail, though. We are looking forward to some great White Sea Bass fishing this year if the squid begin to spawn this spring.

Ever try Winter Calico fishing?

Winter Calico Bass fishing can be good if you can adjust your technique to cold water conditions. One method I was taught by a fishing friend, Cory Visser, was what he called the web technique. I believe the well-known local Charter Captain, Larry "Calico Hunter" Heron, originated it.

The system requires the use of 2 light line outfits with 8-12 lb line. You use lead head plastic lures such as Big Hammer or a similar brand, doctored up with 'Calico Sauce', a lure scent. The key is to cast out the lure into an area outside a kelp line or hard bottom, let it sink to the bottom, then leaving the reel in gear on very light drag to avoid overruns, you put that rod in a rod holder. Then, pick up the other rod, cast it out, and do the same thing. Return to the first rod and begin a medium-slow retrieve for about 5-10 cranks. If no bite, drop down, do it again, and vary the number of cranks until you get in the strike zone. What happens is the lure at first darts up off the floor of the ocean. When a nearby Calico or Sand Bass sees it, it will often generate a reflex strike. We tried this technique one late winter day off Deep Hole for some very nice Calicos and Sand bass. Don't give up on fishing for the winter; make sure you've gotten your new license, and give it a try. Heck, you might even win the monthly $50 big fish prize!

Coastal Conservation Assn. Channel Islands Chapter:

Channel Islands YC Anglers hosted the CCA Quarterly meeting and Rockfish seminar on 3-19-18. Thanks to all who came out to make this seminar a success. We had 70 folks in house. Special thanks to our presenters: Captain Merit McCrea, Kevin Brannon, and Captain Jason Diamond. We are looking forward to CCA's next event in this harbor: the Battle of the Bays Kayak Fishing Tournament, June 30th. Good Luck, and weigh in those fish!!!

DO YOU KNOW?

Marion Wendell & Jeanne Morrisset As told to Keith & Mary Ann Moore

Wendell was born in Lubbock, Texas, October 6, 1925, and grew up on the high West Texas plains, the eldest of three brothers. He spent his summers working on his grandfather's ranch near Abilene. In 1943 he graduated from the US Navy aviation cadet program. After his 18th birthday, he was called to active duty, and as an NROTC cadet, he attended Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, graduating in 1946 with a BS in Business. He then joined the US Marine Corps and was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Second Marine Division at Camp Lejeune, NC. On April 10, 1948, Wendell married his university girlfriend, Jeanne Tomlinson. While part of his USMC family, stationed in Pensacola, FL, Wendell made Captain and became commanding officer of the Marine Detachment aboard the USS Midway. Later, as Deputy Public Information officer at Camp Pendleton, CA, he served in the USA, the Caribbean, and Mediterranean countries. After 10 ½ years of service, Wendell resigned his commission and entered commercial banking with Irvine Trust Company on One Wall Street, NYC. He also attended New York University's Stern School of Business and received an MBA in Business.

Seeking a more favorable climate to raise his family, Wendell relocated to California, now with two sons and a daughter: John Wendell (and Chris) of Hope Ranch in Santa Barbara, son Richard Alan who passed in 2016 of a brain tumor, and CIYC members Cynthia Ruth Crocket (and Dann) of Silver Strand Beach. The children excelled in baseball, basketball, and swimming. All three graduated from University of Southern California and continued with graduate degrees as a CPA, Attorney, and an MBA. They now have 5 grandchildren and 8 great grandchildren. Wendell joined Security Pacific National Bank, and lived in San Bernardino, Riverside, and Redlands. A series of career advancements at Riverside National Bank, Newport National Bank, and Union Bank led to a position with Martin V. Smith &

Associates as the Vice President – Finance. Martin V. Smith and Associates were the major developer and property owner of Channel Islands Harbor. He was involved in developing the Financial Plaza, Casa Sirena apartments and hotel, the Lobster Trap restaurant, and about 100,000 square feet of commercial and industrial properties. He was a long-time director of Commercial & Farmers Bank, and he helped organize and was a director of the Channel Islands National Bank.

Jeanne became very successful in real estate. Jeanne and Wendell formed Seashore Realty to serve faithfully the coastal clients of Ventura County. Wendell was Commodore of CIYC in 1977, President of the Greater Oxnard Chamber of Commerce in 1978 & 88, and a very active member of Ventura civic organizations, including the Channel Islands Rotary Club, Navy League, and as a Presbyterian Church trustee.

They decided to retire in their early 60's and spend time at their waterfront home(s) in Mandalay Bay, the Desert Falls Country Club in Palm Desert, and their home in Hawaii at the Kona Country Club. They also took annual cruises to the Caribbean or Europe. Retirement was going well until Jeanne developed Alzheimer's. Seashore Realty was liquidated. Jeanne passed away at age 84 on January 9, 2009, after a happy marriage of 64 years. Wendell is now semi-retired, enjoying the camaraderie at CIYC, and looking after his real estate investments in Hawaii, Palm Desert, and Channel Islands Harbor.

If you want to know more about the history and development of the Channel Islands Harbor, be sure to say hello to Wendell and introduce yourself. Also, stay tuned for next month's DO YOU KNOW?

OH, SO YOU WANT TO START AN EXERCISE PROGRAM?

Well, good for you! It's the most beneficial thing you can do for yourself and your heart. But you haven't done more than lift a fork and knife for years now. And the only push-ups you did were to get off the couch to go to the refrigerator or the bathroom. How to go about starting an exercise program?

Well, one can start with something really simple. Take a walk. This harbor is ideal for such an activity. To walk from the Rudder Room to the bridge is about a mile. Just put one foot ahead of the other and you've got it made. At first you can do shorter walks, and as you progress, you can increase the distance and the pace.

Any doctor will encourage a cardio workout. What is that? It's when, during exercise, your heart rate comes close to the maximum expected for your age group. At least for two or three minutes at a time.

What is the maximum expected heart rate for your age group? It's an easy formula:

$$220 \text{ minus your age} = \text{maximum expected heart rate.}$$

And you should achieve about 85% of that value. Example: You are 64 years old. Subtract 64 from 220. The result is 156 beats per minute, and 85% of that is 132 BPM.

But how do you take your pulse while walking? That's a problem. You have to stop for 15 seconds, feel your pulse, and multiply by four to get your BPM.

Or you could join a gym. There are ellipticals, treadmills, and bicycles - all of which have built-in pulse rate monitors. And it's cheap: about $1.75 per day. Just start slowly. Maybe five minutes the first day. Every day after, increase by two minutes.

Should you consult your doctor prior to beginning the program? Probably. It's a good idea. Your doc may even recommend a cardiac stress test. This is when they hook you up with ten EKG leads and then make you walk on a treadmill until you reach maximum expected heart rate...or cry UNCLE! and beg for mercy.

Flu Update: To the best of my knowledge, we've had six current or former club members affected. One resulted in hospitalization; two required a visit to the emergency room. All are OK now. The epidemic is now winding down but is still expected to linger for another month or two.

Your Fleet Surgeon, Zoran

Ventura County Board of Supervisors wants “sovereign” dominion over all development at Channel Islands Harbor, and their plan impacts Yacht Clubs

County Board of Supervisors and developer continue to act in bad faith.

Only two months after the Coastal Commissioners’ October 2017 directive to the County and City to work things out, the County Board of Supervisors on December 12th extended the developer, CIHP, Exclusive Right to Negotiate for two more years at no cost, until 2022 for the Fisherman’s Wharf project. The City now has only two choices: amend its Local Coastal Plan (LCP) to accommodate this one project, or maintain its existing LCP. The developer, however, has no reason to negotiate and compromise; they have until 2022 to wait out the City. To make matters worse, the County Board of Supervisors also gave CIHP power of attorney to negotiate with the City, a strange and unusual move for a public agency.

Now the County Board of Supervisors’ idea of negotiating with the City is to propose an LCP amendment that basically removes the City’s jurisdictional right to review and issue permits for development at the harbor. These actions demonstrate the County’s bad faith with no intention to negotiate and compromise as the Coastal Commission has directed.

County Board of Supervisors’ proposed amendment challenges Yacht Clubs.

Conspicuously, the proposed amendment also eliminates from the list of secondary permitted harbor-related uses, the yacht clubs and club houses, bait and tackle sales, and boat sales. Instead, residential uses replaced these uses, making yacht clubs, among others, a non-conforming use at the harbor. Why did the County Board of Supervisors do this? How will this affect the yacht clubs?

The yacht clubs and other harbor-related businesses and activities must question the County’s actions. The yacht clubs and businesses affected must act to protect their interests for the long-term. Public waterside land is valuable and the County Board of Supervisors’ actions are troubling.

Channel Islands Harbor is the only small boat and water recreational harbor in Oxnard. Under the current LCP, its principal use is boating and fishing. There are only 12 small boat harbors along the 1,100 miles of California coastline. They are not building any new harbors. Recreation represents a very small percentage of the entire Channel Islands Harbor’s waterfront. From the harbor mouth to Wooley Road, there are 54,700 feet of harbor waterfront. 78.2% are residential. 15% are commercial and only 6.8% are recreational (board and small boat launch, park). Residential use is the lowest priority in the coastal zone.

A Call to Action - get involved and act now!

Get involved and take action to oppose the County Board of Supervisors’ outrageous tactics and the proposed Fisherman’s Wharf 400-apartment complex. The project is not right for our beautiful harbor.

Rene Aiu, Harbor Delegate, and Rocco Belmonte, Charrette Representative

Update - Specific Planning Charrette defines key development criteria for Fisherman's Wharf and major development issues for the Harbor.

On January 28, 2018, a diverse cross-section of local organizations participated in a charrette discussion to identify alternative development criteria for Fisherman's Wharf and the harbor. What was surprising was the unanimous agreement on all the key issues and most of the development criteria. There were 31 participating organizations.

Here are some highlights of the major conclusions unanimously agreed upon:

The existing Local Coastal Plan's (LCP) policies should be maintained. No amendment to the LCP should be made to accommodate a single project from one developer that may affect the entire harbor and set a precedent for possible future projects in the harbor.

Fisherman's Wharf should be developed as a harbor-oriented destination that attracts tourists and visitors and offers recreational and entertainment experiences. It should be a real gateway to the "Galapagos of North America," the Channel Islands National Park, "a treasure in the Sea."

The City should recognize Channel Islands Harbor is a rare and valuable asset. Harbors need to be protected and treasured for future generations to enjoy. This harbor is a "hidden pearl" and one of the most beautiful small boat harbors in the nation.

A "Master Plan" (an updated Public Works Plan), that is long overdue, should be created that presents a complete vision for the entire small boat harbor.

A more open transparent process for development proposals is needed at the harbor, starting from RFQs and RFPs.

An independent Harbor Commission with elected and appointed members with real authority to supervise and approve all harbor development and lease agreements should be created.

Suggestions for alternative development of Fisherman's Wharf should focus on public access and affordability in terms of lodging, restaurants, parking, and recreational facilities, including boating and fishing. These criteria are important to keep coastal zone access open to diverse, low-income, and under-served groups living in the City.
