We “blasted off” our new year at CIYC with the Blessing of the Fleet. Due to an unfavorable weather forecast, we had the celebration in the dining room. Our Commodores were in costume - just adding a bit of fun to the morning. Our Vice Commodore, Mike Farrell, was the sommelier, handing out the champagne bottles to each captain. Our Rear Commodore, Linda Weisfuss, dressed as a female naval officer, wrapped the Letters of Marque that were also given to the captains, and I, the Mermaid from the Sea, read all the blessings. After the ceremony, a great lunch, prepared by Evelina and George Arglen, was served to over 80 people. Truly a fun morning!

Several days later we celebrated Lynda Norton, our cute, smiley bartender, with an over-the-top retirement party. There were long lines at the bar and standing room only. Thank you to all our members for your patience as we had a few bumps in the road – a late dinner - (I was in “freak out” mode, since the food delivery for 175 people was an hour late), but thanks to our behind-the-scenes volunteers, it all came together. And I heard the food was delicious. This event came off with the help of many: Veronica Kistner, Mike and Karen Farrell, Sue Woolf, Michelle Dilldine, Nancy Forrester, Linda Weisfuss, Linda Greenup, my husband, Richard, our emcee, Bob Taylor, and bar managers Jack Borkowski, Donna McKendry, and Mike Greenup. Janis Pulliam handled the check-in desk brilliantly. And what would a retirement party for Lynda be without our CIYC BAND! Such a great, talented group who donate their time so generously. Thanks to you all!

In addition, a shout-out to our club photographers. Bonnie Chaney did all the photos for the “Wall of Shame” and got them ready prior to the Change of Watch. Sharon Uhlig worked tirelessly at Lynda’s party and the Change of Watch. In addition, she helped cook with the Beefeaters that evening. Thanks for the memories, ladies!

February promises to be another fun-filled month. We have SUPER BOWL on February 3. It’s an eating and drinking extravaganza – not to be missed! Our Valentine’s Social follows on February 9; the SCYA Mid-Winter Sailboat races the weekend of February 16; and our Land Cruise to Santa Barbara Yacht club on Sunday, February 24. There’s something for everyone, so come on out and participate.

I thank you all for your support and words of encouragement as I take on this position. You are all pieces of this puzzle, and I appreciate your confidence and friendship.

PS Remember to tip our bartenders! They are the lifeblood of our club.

My first month as your Vice Commodore has been a true whirlwind! Wow! So many fun events to kick off an exciting 2019. Blessing of the Fleet ceremony attendees came indoors due to weather and were greeted by a Mermaid, a Navy officer, and a sophisticated Sommelier. How about that for a kickoff for the new year! On Friday, the club hosted a huge retirement party for our friend and long-time employee, Lynda Norton. Lynda was roasted and toasted by a crowd of over 150 members and guests. Our house band provided music for dancing and entertainment. Lynda was awarded a large cash gift collected from our members, as well as a full 1-year club membership. We hope that we will continue to see Lynda often from the other side of the bar!

Our annual Change of Watch dinner followed just one day after Lynda's party. This was a more formal affair hosted by the Beefeaters. The team served a wonderful New York Roast to a near sellout crowd. A new Bridge and new Board members were sworn in, and Bob Taylor, our Jr. Staff Commodore, was inducted into the IOBG. DJ Paul Ritz provided entertainment. Thank you to the Saturday Morning setup crew, as well as the Beefeaters, for providing the perfect venue and great dinner for this occasion.

A full slate of Wednesday dinners played to good crowds. Ed O'Neill led off with his special Beef Tournedos in a special sauce with mashed potatoes, on 2/9. Four newer members assisted him and did a great job. I'm sure they will be taking on a lead role soon. Karen Farrell followed on 1/16 with homemade Manicotti with all the trimmings. David Strouse (1/23) and Bill Brayton (1/30) prepared the final Wednesday dinners for January.

There are lots of open Wednesdays for March and beyond, so, if you're willing to give a Wednesday dinner a try, please let me know. I have several new members who aren't ready for a lead role but want to help. I can pair them with anyone who needs a crew. Likewise, if you are hesitant to lead your first dinner, I have several experienced cooks who have said they will mentor you to ensure your success. Please sign up!

Similar to January, February starts off with a bang! Birthday Bash kicks the month off on Feb. 1. The Super Bowl Party will take over our dining room and bar on Sunday, 2/3. This is always a big event at the club. "The Smith Brothers" of cough drop fame, Tim Smith and Mike Smith, will provide the food. From past experience, they always come up with delicious preparations based on the hometowns of the competing teams. Doors open at 1:00pm with our first service beginning at 1:30pm. To wet your whistles, we will be offering some bar specials. And the first 100 people have a chance to win $100, so don't wait till kick off to come in. There just might be an opportunity or two to win a prize by picking quarterly game scores.

Our Valentine's Day celebration is planned for Saturday, February 9. The Epicureans are cooking that night under the capable guidance of Karen Farrell and crew. Yes, that's my punishment for "forcing" the Epicurean women to cook on Valentine's Day. However, I'm confident that the Epicureans and our Social Committee will provide a romantic and memorable evening. Paul Rubin will entertain us.

Our facility managed to provide its usual set of challenges in the early days of January. With a lot of help from Mike McKendry, the leaky and broken faucet in the upstairs kitchen was replaced with a new one. No more leak. Even better news is that the clogged drain in the floor of the downstairs kitchen has finally been properly cleaned out. At least for now, the drains are flowing as expected. The rains came in a big way in mid-January. It looks as if our landlord repaired the roof leak that caused water leaking into the bar. Our fingers are crossed that we will not suffer any additional unwanted water inside the building.

I sent out a survey in January and many of you responded. If you haven't already done so, please take 5 minutes to answer the questions. If you didn't receive the email survey, please let me know.
Look forward to seeing all y'all at the Club! Mike Farrell, Vice Commodore 2019

I was overwhelmed to see how many captains and crews came out for our Blessing of the Fleet. Due to the weather we had to hold it totally at the club. We made the best of it and surprisingly "made lemonade out of lemons." WHAT A BLAST! The Bridge dressed in costumes, and our Commodore was the CIYC Mermaid giving a personal blessing to each boat captain. Our Vice Commodore was the CIYC Sommelier, handing out bottles of Champagne. I awarded the Letters of Marque. It was nice that our members could hear who owned which boat, learn a little about the boat, and share the blessing with them as a club. A huge thank you to Frank Sullivan for preparing the Letters of Marque. Each one was personalized with the boat's name and owner's name. This was perfect for framing. Thanks so much to Evelina and George Arglen and their helpers, Nancy Forrester and Laurie Preston, for preparing an awesome lunch.

February 16th -17th we will be hosting the 2019 SCYA Mid-Winter Regatta. It's a full weekend of sailing with breakfasts and dinners and a speaker at the awards ceremony. I am very excited for all the captains and crews.

February 24th, I have planned a CHARTERED BUS ROAD TRIP to take us to our reciprocal SANTA BARBARA YACHT CLUB for a Sunday Brunch. Space is limited.

Looking forward to March 3rd. PUT this fun day on your calendar: "A TALE OF THE WHALE." This is a fun day on the water whale watching. Then it's back to the club for a lunch, poems, stories, and tall tales of all sorts. We need some captains to take members out.

With OPENING DAY a few months way, we would love for you to enter your boat in the BRISTOL BOAT COMPETITION. There are 5 categories: Sail & Power under 34 ft.; Sail & Power over 34 ft.; Electric Boats.

LET'S FLY OUR COLORS PROUDLY!!!!!!!!!!!!
SEE YOU ON THE WATER!!!!!!!!!!!!

Aloha to all CIYC Members,

The Islanders are planning some wonderful events, excursions, and ways to help with improvements to the club.

By the time you read this, we will have had our Islanders Change of Watch Dinner on January 26th, during which our new Board of Directors were installed. I took over the gavel as First Mate, Linda Zurborg-Perry as 2nd Mate, Mary Ann Moore as Purser, Carol Berns as Recording Yeoman, and Arielle West as Corresponding Yeoman. We also have committee chiefs: Fundraising - Vera Cline, Sunshine - Mary Ann Moore, Photographer - Sharon Uhlig, and Cooking - Joyce Sheridan. I thank Joyce and her crew: Evelina Arglen, Jane Thomas, and Elyse Gonnello for cooking a delicious dinner.

We go by bus, van, or in carpools to interesting places to have fun and enjoy each other's company several times a year. This year these Excursions may be more frequent because Linda Zurborg-Perry and other members have great ideas we're looking forward to: Ventura Fairground horse races, Wine-tasting Tours, Garden and Museum Tours, Lotusland, Santa Barbara Film Festival, Ojai Lavender Festival, Solvang, Rubicon and Elite Theater productions, and Polo in Carpinteria. All CIYC members are welcome to join us.

Some upcoming Events are, the Islanders' Anniversary Dinner on Saturday, March 30th, and then our biggest - Opening Day on Sunday, April 7th. I'll be asking for help with our decorations, food, and hospitality. We are always proud of how our club does Opening Day!

Islanders raise money to go toward Improving the Club. The project we're working on now is a new floor for the upstairs kitchen.

We sent out membership brochures and envelopes in the hope that many of you would like to Join for $20, so please consider being part of our service-oriented and fun-loving group.

Anglers' Corner - February 2019

WSB Grow-out Pen Update:

We had 10,000 White Sea Bass in the grow-out pens, delivered by Hubbs. During the storms in mid-January, a sea lion was able to create a hole in the outside predator net and then get into the containment nets to feed. We were unable to capture or chase it out. If we had been able to get it out, there was no way to keep it from returning through the damaged net. The net could not be repaired until the harbor's soupy water cleared after the storms. Therefore, the Department of Fish and Wildlife authorized an emergency release of the fish. Our volunteers released them on January 16th. A week after the release, divers were able to locate and repair the hole in the net.

Thank you to all the volunteers, especially Tom and Leslie Webb, who worked tirelessly in the driving rain attempting to get the sea lion out.

Fishing Report

Almost all fishing is closed in the southern area, south of Point Conception. Open seasons include sanddabs and surface species, but the annual two-month rockfish closure is in effect.

You can still have a shot at Winter Calico Bass and Halibut. Fish the Calicos with a slower retrieve with a plastic hammerhead lure. Let it sink all the way to the bottom, then a quick few cranks, then slow retrieve.

Halibut in the winter are in deeper water flats in the 90' to 140' range where there is a large consistent concentration of bait. Try drifting or bounce balling until you find the specific depth the fish are in. Some of the best areas to check are big flats adjacent to canyons. The other option is to pick a depth and drive until you see a lot of life on the surface indicating bait. Or watching your meter and picking a spot where you are marking a lot of bait.

The Pacific Marine Fishing Council recently announced that they were going to increase the allowable take on rockfish, noting that Bocaccio, among other species, had shown significant recovery. There will be further meetings on the subject in April and June. This points to potential for changes that may loosen regulations for 2020.

'Traditional Masculinity' Deemed Toxic

This is what a 30-page document, issued by the American Psychological Association (APA), declared. "Traditional masculinity is harmful," and it also leads to homophobia and sexual harassment, the paper states. It also determined that traditional masculinity is marked by STOICISM, COMPETITIVENESS, DOMINANCE, and AGGRESSION. So there!

First of all, I am not sure what the APA really is. It could be a legitimate psychological organization, but it also could be a politically biased psychological group, since it's based in D.C. In addition, among the medical sciences, psychology is the least accurate discipline. Some 70% of their published scientific papers cannot be reproduced in subsequent studies.

STOICISM is predominantly a philosophy of personal ethics informed by its system of logic and its views on the natural world. I see nothing wrong with it. Socrates was behind it.

COMPETITIVENESS. What's wrong with that? Let's abolish the Olympic games, NBA, NFL, chess tournaments, soccer championships, school grades, performance evaluations? Competition is what drives us and leads to innovations, discoveries, and the betterment of humanity overall.

DOMINANCE. There are many definitions of dominance. In psychology, it is said to be a person's characteristic feelings of control and influence over his life circumstances, versus feelings of being controlled and influenced by others or events. Nothing wrong with that.

AGGRESSION. I don't think aggression is a dominant male characteristic. It is useful for animals in securing mating rights, and some of it may still reside in our hippocampuses. And I agree that aggression is not good. But there are different grades of it, starting with assertiveness which is good. Chinese males, who outnumber females, are unlikely to find a mate and propagate unless they show some assertiveness and "aggressively" look for a female. Males, regardless of age, engage in more physical and verbal aggression, while females engage in more indirect aggression such as spreading rumors or gossiping (Wikipedia).

Other important aspects of how boys become "masculine" were not addressed. Many grow up without fathers and cannot experience what a man should really be. Most boys' formative years in early schooling are influenced by female teachers who are very prevalent in kindergarten and elementary schools. Females choose their mates. If they choose wimps, their offspring are likely to be wimps. Masculinity is driven by women's choices. Hello, Darwin!

The other important thing that was not addressed at all is the effect of IQ on social behavior. Most jailed criminals have IQs of 80-85. Also, the IQ bell curves for men and women are different. While the peak for both is the same, the base for men is more widely spread at the base. This means there will be more Mozarts, Einsteins, and Teslas than Marie Curies. However, more low-IQ male thieves, gangsters, and rapists are on the somewhat wider left side of their bell curve.

This paper, in my opinion, is disgraceful male-bashing pseudoscience.

Your Fleet Sturgeon, Zoran

Is Now the Time for Channel Islands Harbor to Update its Public Works Plan?

California Coastal Commission's Environmental Justice Policy Calls for Local Governments to Amend Their Local Coastal Plan, Public Works Plans, and Long-Range Development Plans to Address Environmental Justice Issues

The California Coastal Commission is in the process of finalizing its Environmental Justice Policy. The policy recognizes the need for special protection of coastal access for underserved groups, particularly minority and low-income communities. Last year, the Commission spoke up for environmental justice during the successful opposition to building yet another power plant on Oxnard's beach.

By establishing an Environmental Justice Policy, the Commission declares its commitment to protecting coastal resources and providing public access and lower-cost recreation opportunities for everyone. "The Environmental Justice Policy is designed to achieve more meaningful engagement, equitable process, effective communication, and stronger coastal protection benefits that are accessible to everyone." (Statement credited to Central Coast Alliance for a Sustainable Economy (CAUSE), July 2018) This new policy will likely trigger examination of numerous Local Coastal Plans and Public Works Plans and encourage that they be updated.

Change will not come easily. The Commission's November 17 2018 Environmental Justice Policy Draft states, in its Executive Summary: "The concern remains that, historically, much of the Commission's work has been largely shaped by coastal residential, commercial, and industrial landowners, without sufficient consideration for those whose lives and livelihoods are connected to our coasts through their labor, recreation, and cultural practices but cannot afford the staggering cost of land adjacent to the California shoreline." (Statement credited to Central Coast Alliance United for a Sustainable Economy, July 2018.)

How will environmental justice affect Channel Islands Harbor? Channel Islands Harbor is only one of 12 small boat harbors remaining along the California coast, and no more are likely to be built. It is a rare and precious public coastal resource.

Exclusive private residential development is being proposed on public harbor land designated for visitor-serving and harbor-oriented activities. The County is demanding major changes to the permitted land uses by pushing a stand-alone amendment to its Public Works Plan, rather than a thoughtful update to the harbor's Public Works Plan. Even if high-end residential developments may be expedient and lucrative for the County, they are a long step backward for coastal access and environmental justice.

The most underserved population along the coast is likely Ventura County's farmworkers, industrial workers, second-language students, and immigrants. Yet Ventura County promotes a developers' high-end, fortress-like 400-unit apartment building on the waterfront of Fisherman's Wharf, the gateway of Channel Islands Harbor. Its footprint would obliterate the harbor's only waterfront RV spaces, almost half of the Wharf's public parking, and a popular low-cost public theater. The proposed apartment building offers no affordable housing, camping, or hostel space, or any additional public parking space. Park space is already severely limited in the harbor, and the parking shortage will repel rather than attract local visitors, including school groups. (cont'd on page 9) cont'd from page 8) While the County continues to urge the City of Oxnard and Coastal Commission to approve the building of 400 high-end apartments, the long-planned visitor-serving, moderately priced hotel, restaurant, and marina project is stalled. The County's actions are contrary to their claims that the harbor is in urgent need of revitalization. There clearly is a significant difference in the County's sense of urgency and treatment of a visitor-serving project versus the 400-unit apartment project at Fisherman's Wharf. The hotel project is consistent with the Coastal Act, the harbor's Public Works Plan, the City's Local Coastal Plan and the Environmental Justice Policy. The Fisherman's Wharf 400-apartment project is not consistent with the Coastal Act, the City's Local Coastal Plan, and environmental justice, and is not supported by the community. Amazingly, the County supports the apartment project and allows the hotel project to be delayed.

Ventura County is a clear example that ensuring environmental justice requires not only access to the planning process but timely and complete public information about development projects that might impact underserved groups. This is an area difficult to navigate, as many issues remain obscured within County processes, including an outdated and piecemealed Public Works Plan.

For public participation in harbor development and protection to be effective and relevant, the harbor's 1986 Public Works Plan needs to be updated for public and Coastal Commission decisions to be knowledgeable about the County's overall and long-term intentions for the harbor.

If the environmental justice policy is to be effective and relevant at Channel Islands Harbor, it must start with a requirement for an appropriately updated Public Works Plan. Concepts and good intentions are meaningless without clear implementation plans. Without a specific plan for the entire harbor, it will be difficult for the public, local underserved groups, and the Commission to make informed decisions that honor environmental justice.
