Message From The Commodore Larry Golkin

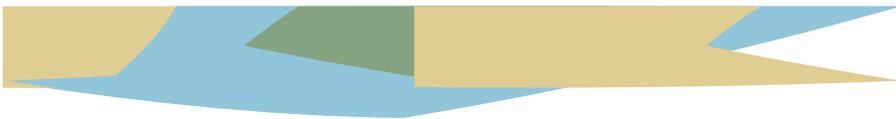

It's June. June means so many things. It marks the end of spring and the beginning of summer. It marks the middle of the year. It means half the year has gone by. It means we have six more months left. June means fog, and cooler mornings. It also means the sun stays up later. June marks a transition. Bocce moves in to the Thursday night slot and Movie Night moves to Mondays. We anticipate that Tom Warden will be walking without a cane. Boats get dusted off and cruised to Del Rey Yacht Club and to our beautiful Channel Islands. Fish will get caught in the Guys and Gals Fishing Tournament. We will celebrate Father's day, and enjoy dinghy parties. Times are good. Transitions and change are good.

Like the season, our club has also experienced transition. Over the last several months, the dining room has transformed. Our bar and lounge have transformed. The foyer has transformed. Our administration has transformed. So many changes have occurred this year. The question I evaluate every day is whether these changes are for the better? I believe they are and I am pleased to report that we have taken some very impressive steps both forward and backward. Forward, we have stepped into a new realm of technology and administrative technique that will invariably add to our experience by taking some of the work out of "self-help." Backwards, we have stepped to a time when all are happy and the club is alive and well. One member told me she has, "not seen so many people having so much fun in 10 years." This works.

On a purely physical level, the space is clean, neat, and more organized. We can serve more people and we can serve them better, faster, and far more effectively than in the past. Why is this so important? Not unlike any other endeavor we pay for, I expect each of you to ask whether or not you feel you are getting your money's worth. Is your club giving you everything you want, or at least as much as possible? Will these transitions make it easier for you to breathe? Granted, we are a "self-help" club, it still behooves the club's administration to try its best to offer you as many opportunities to have a good time as possible. This is what you pay for, right? If all you were looking for in a yacht club were reciprocal rights, there are certainly several less expensive alternatives right in our own back yard. If all you were looking for in a club was to be served, there is a place for you down the road. If all you wanted was a place where you could go and race, there is another place. Aside from making things look nicer and work better, we have worked hard this year make CIYC into a place that has something to do for all of you – every day and every night, should you chose, or several times a week, if that's what you need, or, at a minimum, several times a month. The building is no longer closed. It is open all the time. It is available for you to enjoy any time, day or night. Yes, the more activities we plan, the more income that is generated for the club. But I ask you members to forget about the money for a moment and consider whether or not you are having fun. Are you enjoying your experience? Do you feel that there are a sufficient number of opportunities to engage your fellow club members; to have a place where you can go to sing, dance, party, or just visit with friends; to race or cruise; to cook or eat; to sit or stand; to watch or to play a game? Do you believe that the club has fully opened all of its doors to you? Are you getting the most out of your membership dollars? Rumor has it, well over 90% of you believe you are. For those of you who are not, well, perhaps you are not taking advantage of all CIYC has to offer, or perhaps this simply is not the place for you.

I appreciate the 5-6 emails I get each week from members who compliment the work we are doing. I appreciate the kind words you express to me at the club. The resounding expression of support and appreciation is heartwarming. I have the privilege to work with a Board of Directors that is, in so many ways, visionary, creative, talented, original, and simply, quite cool. This board has exemplified how important it is to be concerned with the big picture and not hung up arguing about personal views and beliefs, or sweating unnecessary details. Every board member pledged at the beginning of the year to adhere to the adage, "there is no 'me' in CIYC." We help each other. We stand with each other. We make each other's experience enjoyable. There is no infighting or eviscerate discontent. What's more, each and every member of the Board I have the privilege to serve with has stepped up and has taken the lead in something specifically intended to create fun and enjoyment for you all. Thank you all.

There is one person, however, who I believe is especially deserving of recognition. It seems I have mentioned this person so many times – at Opening Day, at Change of Watch, at the Sailors Awards Dinner – whatever. She comes up over and over again, and every single time I have the opportunity to thank folks for their hard work, she is mentioned. She never complains. She only helps. She never utters a discouraging word; she only asks what she can do to help things work better. She always responds with a smile and a kind word. She encourages growth and progress. She never discourages a good idea. By my side, she has worked ridiculously long and hard hours to help bring our new computer technology to life. She has learned the program and has trained the staff. She has also brought credibility back to our balance sheets and financial records and will be working with the new book keeper to see that it stays that way. Truly, what she has done to help me cannot be underestimated, and I cannot thank her enough. Thank you, Brenda. You're the best, and you are an example for us all.

With that, I wish happiness and good blessings to you all. I hope you all have a wonderful summer.

Commodore Larry

For those of you who are not having fun, I respectfully apologize. I figure either you were misled and misunderstand what our place is all about, or, unfortunately, you may simply not be able to have fun anywhere you go, and in spite of CIYC's best efforts.

The Racing season for your team is going strong.

Harry Krum's Beneteau 38S5 Fus'ee and crew brought home the winning cup from the Newport to Ensenada Race. The perpetual trophy is on display on the piano in the bar. Time was 19 hours, the team experienced 15 to 18 knots of wind with gust up to 22k. The winning team Harry Krum, Larry Golkin, Dave and Sandra Lochridge, Brian McKenna and Randy Alcorn, give them hearty congratulations. Larry, Brenda, Dave and Sandra brought Fus'ee home by way of Catalina was rough uphill all the way. A welcome committee was on the balcony when they arrived in the harbor.

Thank you, Tom and Carole Naylor for a wonderful cruise to Ventura Yacht Club. The guys did a great job of cooking. (Thank you Shelly my steak was perfect) The gals and guys supplied the side dishes. This event is always a winner. We had several boats flying our burgees docked outside the yacht club.

Welcome home Mexico Cruisers Ed and Annette wonderful stories of the trip.

The Spring Series in February posted winners from CIYC.

Race number 1: only one boat out of 23 finished.

Race number 2: Tom Warshauer Hunter 37 Quiet Times took 2nd place. Harry Krum Beneteau 38 Fus'ee placed 3rd.

Race 3: Tom Warshauer Hunter 37 Quiet timers placed 2nd. Harry Krum Beneteau 38 Fus'ee placed 3rd.

Over all for the series NS-C : Tom Warshauer Quiet Times took 1st place.

Harry Krum Fus'ee placed 3rd. The Midwinter's Series, posted winners for CIYC. Check our Web site. The wet Wednesdays hosted by Anacapa Yacht Club have started. CIYC is well represented including Mystic Flyer and the all female crew.

Message From The Rear Commodore Georgie Olsen

Goodness Gracious Sakes alive!

09 is just about halfway gone. Time doesn't stand still when you are having fun does it. It seems to fly.

Our Month of May was filled to the brim with activities and dinners. Mother's Day was a huge success. The food prepared was wonderful and the room was cheerful and beautiful. Champagne flowed and all enjoyed to their hearts content. Thanks goes to your Board of Directors and to the lovely ladies who put the room together.

Joyce put on a wonderful dinner on the second and Jackie Biederman hosted a delicious hot dog and hamburger evening on the 8th. The Beefeaters gave us a wonderful Prime dinner on the 16th.

We had a cruise over the Memorial Weekend and Dave Wilhite made a special Holiday supper Club for us all. On the 30th Barbara Brauns put on a very special show for us all to enjoy. Thanks Barb to you and all your celebrities. Jack thanks for the great food.

Last months ship shape Saturday didn't bring much reward. But kudoes to thoes who did come out to give a hand. Chris McPhearson, Mary Howard, Miles Linman, Francene Thomas, Mary Foster, Dick Olsen, Yours truly, Ellie Bishop, and Sue Warden.

Your Club needs continuous upkeep and it is the responsibility of us All to help where ever and when ever you are called upon. That is what a SELF HELP CLUB IS. Please, Please help me to make June's ship shape more rewarding.

In last months article I mentioned some of the generous people of your club who donated monies toward items that were bought for the renovations to the bar. But please don't forget the extremely generous gifts of the fans in the Dining room. Ted and Mary Foster and Bill and Judy Sandham each purchased these fans for our comfort again this was a very generous gift to give to the Club. As with all gifts, a plaque will be mounted in the club with all the names of each donor in appreciation and gratitude. It has taken a lot of hard work and your generosity to make the changes to our Club for without you all we would not have the beautiful Club we do. There is still work to be done but I have faith that by the end of the year we will be sitting pretty.

Respectfully,

Georgie, (RC)

Fleet Surgeon

Hello!

The time is upon us for our fundraiser dinner. The AED will be available at the dinner for a demonstration. Please come and support our cause. Skip Harkson is making his famous BBQ and beans. We will have entertainment, Dave Lochridge will be our DJ and we'll have Karaoke. The dinner is $20 a person and will go to the purchase of this life saving piece of equipment. The demonstration will be by the representatives of the medical supply company. We hope you'll all attend.

Channel Islanders Georgie Olsen

Hi Ladies,

Another month is history. As I'm writing this article I realize that half of the year is gone.

Can you believe it? I can't. In May we had a wonderful outing to the Cave Restaurant in Ventura. The turnout was great. Thanks go to Daphne for setting this up for us to share.

In June the Board will be hosting the Fathers Day Dinner on the 20th. at 7:00. Check your calendars and save the date to bring your guy or father or son's if they are fathers. Dana Hamilton will be cooking Steaks for the dinner and the board will be helping. We will have servers so your guys won't have to pickup after themselves. Ha Ha. Come and share a lovely dinner and music with your guy.

As we will be preparing for Father's day there will be no meeting in June.

We will have a board meeting on June 4th and a board meeting in July along with a luncheon.

Hope this article finds you all well and recuperated from Opening Day. I'm on my way.

Just a note to let you all know that we stayed well within our allotted budget for Opening Day and everyone who worked so hard did a wonderful job.

Keep your sunny smiles on.

Your First Mate,
Georgie

WSB pen Update:

We will soon begin collecting the Brood stock. We will need to ask that anglers wishing to participate follow some guidelines for handling the fish. We will ask CIYC private boaters to make prior arrangements with us to get access to the pens. Here are some handling techniques provided by Hub Sea World Research:

Handling Procedures for White Seabass Broodstock Collection

The guidelines presented below are designed to reduce handling stress and increase survivorship in fish that are caught by angling which will be kept alive and used to supplement the current captive spawning broodstock in the aquaculture program at Hubbs-SeaWorld Research Institute.

Recommended Tackle

Circle Hooks Reduce Hook Damage & Subsequent Mortality Rates

It is preferred that circle hooks (4/0 to 8/0) be used when fishing for fish that will eventually become breeders in the hatchery. This hook type is preferred over J-hooks because it tends to hook fish in the jaw more frequently and reduces hooking mortality. Fishing with barbless hooks by flattening the barb on the hook will minimize injury to the fish and facilitate easier hook removal.

Land the Fish Quickly

To reduce exhaustion and stress in the fish it is best to reel the fish in swiftly without overpowering your equipment. This is best accomplished by using heavier tackle with a tighter drag setting.

40-50 Lb. Test Line Is Effective In Bringing In A Fish Through Kelp

Another option is to use braided line (40-50 lbs.) attaching a 3-8 ft. leader of (30-40 lb.) fluorocarbon and using a tighter drag than you would if fishing monofilament. This combination is more abrasion resistant and will cut through kelp better than monofilament. This setup will help to land fish quicker thereby reducing stress and injury on the fish.

Bringing Fish Onboard Your Boat

A Knotless Mesh Net Should be Used to Remove Fish from the Water

It is strongly recommended that a knotless fine mesh net (<1/2 inch square openings) be used because it is less abrasive and minimizes slime and scale loss in addition to reducing fin entanglement in the net which can split the fins. Since the external mucous layer of the fish is one of its primary defense mechanisms against invasion of pathogens, maintaining its integrity is critical to the fish's health and survival. Do not lift the fish out of the water using only fishing tackle, gaff or by grabbing the mouth. A knotless, wide mouth, fine mesh net should be used and slid under the fish while it is still in the water. Gently lift the fish out of the water and onto the boat being careful not to hit the fish against the side of the boat or the gunwale. While the fish is in the net it should not be laid on the deck of the boat and the hook should be removed at this time (See hook removal instructions below). The fish should not remain in air for more than one minute and it should be transferred into the holding tank as soon as possible (See placing fish into the holding tank below).

Smooth Rubber or Latex Gloves Should be Worn

Using gloves will help protect both the handler and the fish. Actual physical "handling" should be kept to a minimum if done at all. Never insert hands under the operculum and into the gill cavity to lift the fish. This can lead to injury and hemorrhaging at the gill filaments. In addition, avoid grabbing the fish around the tail. Fish that have come into the hatchery after being handled poorly have a high incidence of bacterial infection and may eventually need to be euthanized.

Hook Removal

Remove Hooks Carefully with Needle-Nose Pliers or Cut the Line

Keep the fish in the net while removing the hook as this will aid in controlling the fish should it "kick". If it is difficult to remove the hook and the barbed end is visible then cut off this end and remove the hook. Alternatively, if the barb is not visible then the shank of the hook should be cut and the barbed end left place. Eventually the remaining portion of the hook will fall out or it will be removed at a later date when the fish is anesthetized. If the hook is deep in the throat of the fish or it is not visible, then cut the fishing line as close to the hook as possible. At any point during hook removal the fishing line should not be pulled in an attempt to locate the hook or free it from the fish.

Air Bladder Deflation

Perform this Procedure Using Only the Apparatus and Instructions Provided

To vent a fish with a hyperinflated air bladder, please read the handout on White Seabass Air Bladder Deflation CAREFULLY. It is best to perform this procedure just after the fish has been placed in the holding tank and ONLY if it is observed to be floating upside down and unable to right itself.

Placing Fish into the Holding Tank

Be Attentive When Placing Fish into the Holding Tank

The holding tank should be smooth and free of rough or sharp protrusions that can cause injury or remove scales from the fish if they come in contact with them. If the fish is in a net, then place the whole net into the tank and gently turn the net upside down and allow the fish to swim out of the net. Carefully assist the fish out of the net if needed. If the net frame is too large to fit into the tank then place the net as close as possible to the tank with the fish's head near the tank opening. Grab the netting and pull it taught and help roll the fish out of the net while guiding it, head first, into the tank. Be careful not to let the fish touch sharp edges or protrusions (latches, screws, etc.) that may be in close proximity to the tank opening. If the fish is in a sling then place the end of the sling with the fish's head into the tank and raise the back end allowing the fish to slide out of the sling, head first, into the tank.

Underway

Frequently Monitor the Fish and Holding Tank

It is important that the holding tank not be overloaded with fish in order to provide adequate room for movement and well oxygenated seawater to the fish. The holding tank should be covered to prevent water loss and reduce "sloshing" and also prohibit the fish from jumping out of the tank. While underway periodically inspect the holding tank to make sure that seawater is flowing through the tank and that the fish appear in good condition and are not incurring further injury.

Upcoming events:

Annual Guys vs. Gals Fishing tourney set for June, will have to be postponed until about July or August. I go in for knee replacement surgery on May 28th and will need time to do the rehabilitation.

No fish was turned in for the Big Fish of the Month of May as of this going to press!

"Big Fish of the Month"

$50 prize

is awarded at the end of every month...however; you can only win once per year. Legal fin fish only and no sharks.

"Big Fish of the Year"

At the end of the year there will be a Big Fish of the Year award for $100.00. it does not have to be one of the monthly winners, it can be a tourney fish or not, so if you win one month don't quit, the next fish you catch may be worth $$$$

HISTORIAN - Bud Gerding

As I Remember—Random Thoughts #2

While spending an evening with Johnny Walker and Jack Daniels discussing the virtues of Waterboarding, Jose Cuervo was scheduled for this discussion but unfortunately he became entangled with S-wine Flu. While deeply involved with this subject a few CIYC thoughts drifted along.

*CIYC had a very active group of-golf-playing members who traveled to various Resorts for golf and fun. Lodging, food and golf tournaments were organized and the party was on. Some of the destinations included local as well others some distances away.

Palm Springs, Nipomo, Monterrey, Ca., Rancho Bernardo Inn*, Mountain View Santa Paula, Westlake, Olivas Park, Buena Ventura, Ojai, River Ridge, Saticoy, etc

*Rancho Bernardo Inn included Breakfast and Dinner in a package deal with the lodging, I think this all-inclusive package program ended after CIYC's second trip to their establishment. I think we gave their all-inclusive package a real test. Past Commodore Dick Olsen made a "Hole in One" and graciously bought drinks for the entire group; the drinks were NOT included in the all-inclusive package. Thanks Dick.

*Some folks have questioned the significant meaning of membership numbers assigned to members. The numerical order of member numbers have no significant meaning other than a method of keeping traceability to a specific member, as in an ID number. As members left CIYC their numbers were re-assigned to new members, hence the mixed numerical numbers.

Another club I formally belonged to had a different slant on membership numbers. The lower the number, the higher the club prestige, I had number 394, so you can see where I fit on the Totem Pole. During CIYC's 2009 Opening Day I was reintroduced to a Past Commodore of said club. He said; yes, and what was your number?

My CIYC number was previously assigned to the TV/Movie actor John Carradine, I suppose I should have a vicarious celebrity thrill whenever I use my membership number.

*Joe Masiello-Super Chef

Joe Masiello taught a cooking class for several months at CIYC in early 1986, Joe was a big time Super Chef and was a few years too early for the current T V Cooking shows where he could have fit right in with some of these shows. He had about 20 students in his cooking class where he shared much of his knowledge and techniques with them. One club dinner Joe prepared, I think he called it " A Roman Roman Holiday Dinner" that remains in my mind as one of the most outstanding dinners in my club experience.

Joe Masiello a long time CIYC member passed away May, 2, 2009 at age 89.

ABOUT BOATING

MARCH 18, 1982

THE VENTURA COUNTY & COAST REPORTER

Channel Islands Yacht Club News

by Doug Moore, Commodore

Outstanding social events continue to brighten our pre-boating season. Valentine's Day Dinner Dance was a huge success and was the first event managed by our Social Committee which is Co- Chaired by Phyllis Gerding and Dolores Seay. Congratulations ladies, you are off to a fine start. Not to be outdone, the next morning was the annual Channel Islanders Valentine's Brunch. It was also a delightful event enhanced by our own Skip Miser and The Buffalo Chips singing and making music. Thank you, First Mate Pat Mickey.

John Bamford and his CIYC Anglers have now enjoyed two incredible successes with their Friday Fish Fry. If you haven't attended, you've really missed something! Fierce competition for the annual trophy is expected from other clubs, but if our people can fish like they can cook it has to be in the bag!

Regular Saturday Night Dinners have been simply superb. Attendance has been so great that all available dinner tickets have sold out at nearly all events. Profits earned from these dinners contribute toward projects for our Clubhouse and sponsorship of Club events. However, the greatest contribution is the great friends we make and the enjoyment of our membership. We are deeply appreciative for the hard-working volunteers who plan and cook the meals and provide us with such enjoyable Saturday Nights. Lucile Heiwig and her monthly dinner chairpersons are doing a splendid job.

A special expression of appreciation goes to Bill Folgate and Clem Argo for the countless hours of work they, and the many who help them, expend in maintaining and improving our club. Ed Burd also works long and diligently in keeping our Club's finances straight and on track, it's a special dedication these men show.

Bob and Bev Hamilton are preparing to go to press with our new 1982 Roster. You are encouraged to get your roster card in with your annual dues payments as only paid up members will be listed in the Roster. All dues are required to be paid by January 1st yet there are still some 55 members who are now two months delinquent.

This year continues to shape up into an active, fun-filled time. We all look forward to the cruising season, fishing, and continued outstanding social events at the Club. Our sail acing season is already underway with Chris McPherson at the helm. Ann Dunleavy and Ralf Moll are working hard on a Junior program including sabot races. Please give them the help they need.

Your participation in as many Club activities as possible is the most rewarding experience you have in the yacht club. We have so many great people in our Club that you can really know — they can become your very good new friends.
